

Temple Emunah & Brookhaven at Lexington present

Discussions and Learning with Rabbi Fel

January 10 and 24, February 7 and 21 from 9:30 am – 10:30 am

Jan 10– Portrayed as an aggressive and brutish character, Rebecca and Isaac's son Esau often gets a bad rap in religious literature. Come and learn about one of Judaism's most misunderstood characters and decide for yourself if he is as bad as everyone says.

Jan 24 – Dozens of different artists have depicted the curious scene that takes place between Jacob and an unnamed assailant in the book of Genesis. Join Rabbi Fel as he navigates 2000 years of rabbinical literature to uncover the nature of Jacob's attacker.

Feb 7 – Our Biblical story continues as we turn our attention to the life Jacob: 2 Wives, 2 Concubines and 13 Children! Learn about one of the most complicated family dynamics in the Bible!

Feb 21 – We will continue studying the Jacob Narrative. Please note that although the topic is the same as last class, it is not a prerequisite.

Classes are held at Brookhaven and are open to all Temple Emunah members
1010 Waltham Street
Lexington MA, 02421
800. 283. 1114

