

Emunah Connect: What Comes Next

Sunday, December 16, 9:45 AM

EMUNAH CONNECT invites you to another in its series of Breakfast Meetings designed to share ideas and thoughts about careers and to provide a forum for professional networking among members of our community. Our Sunday morning event on December 16, titled “What Comes Next,” will explore navigating transitions at the beginning, middle, and end of one's career.

A panel of Temple Emunah members who have experienced different career transitions will share their stories. There will be plenty of time for questions and discussions. So, whether you want to strike out on a new career path or are a seasoned professional thinking of retirement, please come join us on Sunday morning, December 16th from 9:45 AM – 11:30AM. The event will start with Shaharit at 9:00, followed by breakfast and networking, then a panel discussion. If you know a college student thinking about their first career, you might suggest this event to them!

Please RSVP to Pete Fordham at: pfordham80@gmail.com. This event is free of charge.
