

Social Action Shabbat

Saturday, January 19, 2019

On Saturday, January 19 the Social Action Committee will sponsor Shabbat, with guest speaker Paul Chernick. The topic for this Shabbat will be composting, and how Temple Emunah is moving in that direction. As described on the Mass.gov website, composting is an inexpensive, rewarding, and environmentally beneficial way to manage organic materials. Yard waste like leaves and grass clippings, along with kitchen scraps and soiled paper, make up nearly half of what a household discards.

But rather than throw these organics away, why not compost them into nutrient-rich soil additive for your garden? Anyone can compost. It's simple, and you can do it in your back yard or even indoors. Soon, at Temple Emunah we will be establishing our own food waste pick-up program through the company Black Earth Compost. Learn more about this environmentally-friendly industry, and how we can all participate!
